Dear Parent/Guardian,

As you may be aware, we (Nulogic Training) are set to deliver our intensive revision courses in Maths and English at The Buckingham School during the Easter break (Monday 8th to Thursday 11th April 2019).

Nulogic Training Ltd is an educational specialist company that deliver a variety of motivational and results-based programmes to students in schools across the UK. We strive to innovate education and assist schools in building possibilities and achievements for young people.

We are using this week as an opportunity to obtain some photographs of our team in action with the purpose to use them on our website, social media and in general marketing features. As your child will be heavily involved in the session, we are asking for your permission for your child to potentially feature on the previously mentioned platforms.

If you're happy with the decision for us to feature your child on these platforms, we'd be truly grateful if you could read and complete the liability waiver form below.

If you wish to contact me with any queries, please contact 07864 212166 or email dhitchings@nulogictraining.co.uk.

Many thanks in advance,

David Hitchings

Director
